

With 7 Core Electricals new range of thermal imaging cameras

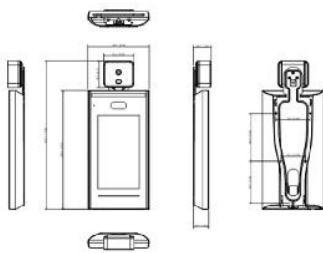

Temperature monitoring access control terminal

Help to control the spread of COVID-19 and other illnesses in the work place. This access control system will check your staff members on entry for high temperatures and raise and inform you of any concerns

- Face recognition speed 0.2s per face
- Can hold up to 100,000 users, 100,000 face images and 100,000 passwords
- Face recognition distance of up to 2 meters
- Supports mask detection
- 7 inch LCD display with high resolution

Dimensions (mm[inch])

The system can be integrated with a number of additional controls, entry and warning systems to allow your work place to be free of illness and keep safe automatically.

EXAMPLE

Above is an example of a typical instalment of the free mounted monitor

Unit supplied as standard for free mounting, giving you the ease to locate the unit where ever works best for your environment

Available complete with a stand ready for use where ever required

